

Student Form for Preparing for the IEP Team Meeting

What do you want the team to know about you?

This is your individualized education program (IEP), and you are an important voice in helping to develop an IEP that will best meet your needs. The information you share is critical. Document your responses below and share them with the IEP team a couple of weeks before the IEP meeting to help the team develop an IEP that meets your needs. If attending the meeting, you should also bring a copy of your responses that you can reference during the meeting.

What are your main goals and priorities?

What are your goals for the future?	What do you want to accomplish this year?

What are your strengths and needs?

What do you do well?	What do you struggle with?

How can the school help you?

When completing this section, think about what services and supports have helped you and what has not helped you at school, at home, and in the community.

What services and supports have worked for you?	What services and supports have not worked for you?	Are there any services and supports you think might help you in the future?

Is there anything else you would like the team to know?

PROGRESS Center

at the American Institutes for Research® ■

1400 Crystal Drive, 10th Floor | Arlington, VA 22202-3289

202-403-5000 | www.air.org

www.promotingprogress.org

This material was produced under the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs, Award No. H326C190002. David Emenheiser serves as the project officer. The views expressed herein do not necessarily represent the positions or policies of the U.S. Department of Education. No official endorsement by the U.S. Department of Education of any product, commodity, service, or enterprise mentioned in this resource is intended or should be inferred.

Notice of Trademark: "American Institutes for Research" and "AIR" are registered trademarks. All other brand, product, or company names are trademarks or registered trademarks of their respective owners.